

the Mercury-only area. Lakefield employees went to Mercury's website (www.mercury.net), clicked first on "Internet" and then on "High Speed Internet," and typed into the "Address Search" box various actual known addresses within the indicated Mercury-only service area. As indicated in separate pages of Exhibit B, these address searches produced maps indicating "Our coverage area is shown in green. If you're in the greens, you can get Mercury High Speed Internet." In a non-exhaustive search, Lakefield employees have found at least twenty-two (22) actual known addresses in the Mercury-only service area where customers CANNOT get Mercury service at the location (that is, where the red marker indicating the address lies outside the green-colored area where Mercury indicates that it can provide service).

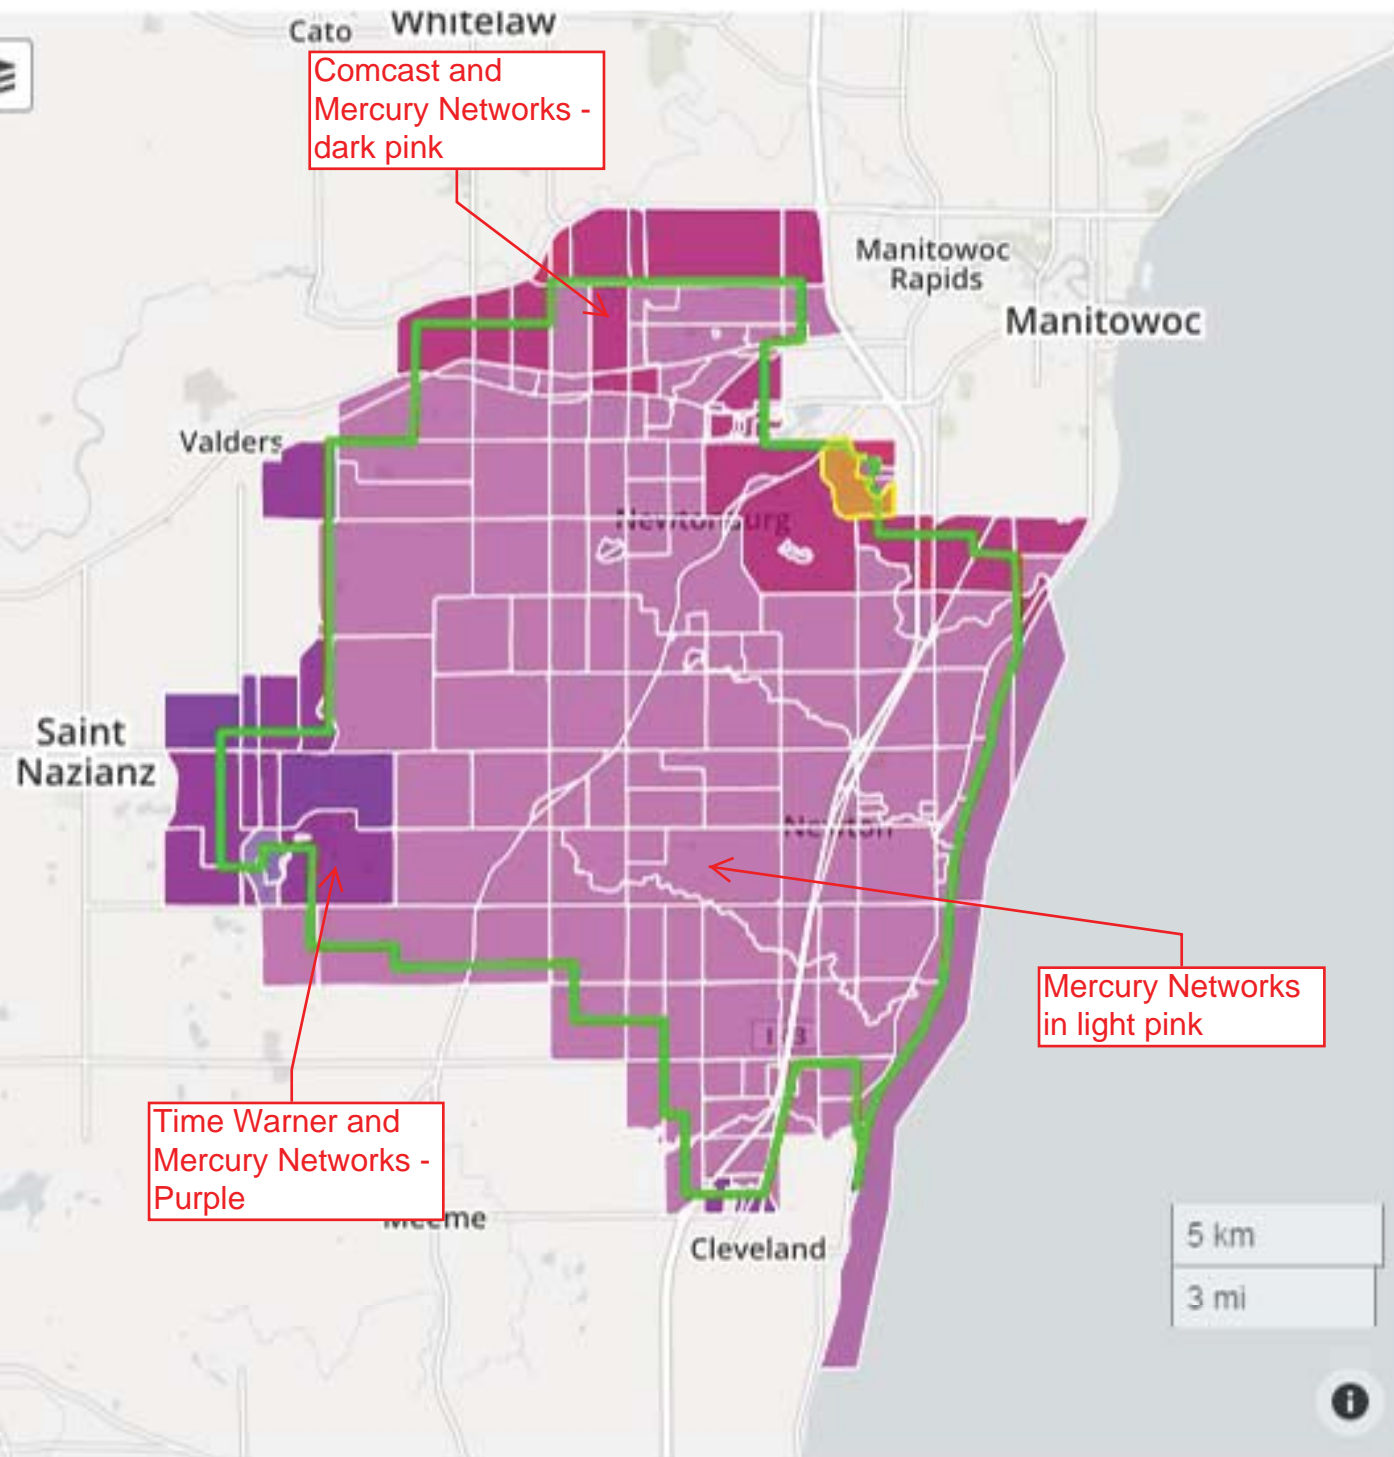

In light of the clear admissions in Mercury's online service availability tool that it cannot serve at least twenty-two (22) locations within the area where it is Lakefield's only alleged competitor, Lakefield requests that its Wisconsin study area (Study Area No. 330896) be removed from the Commission's list of rate-of-return study areas that were determined on a preliminary basis to be 100 percent overlapped by unsubsidized competitors, and that such study area be declared to remain eligible for high-cost support.

Respectfully submitted,
